

A Marriage Minute™

A simple help to make your marriage just a little better this week.

Love Never Fails.

--1 Corinthians 13:8

Today, Penny and I can look back over our forty two years of marriage, all the trials we've been through, all the difficulties we've had with each other, with finances, with children; It's been a long tough road, but has it been worth it? Let me share with you a card

Penny just sent me. (She sends me cards even though we work together in the same office. The personal stuff she wrote, I'll keep personal):

*"I wish we could run away, find some little uninhabited island,
And just make love to each other day and night for the rest of our lives...
I know that's selfish, but sometimes the pressures and responsibilities of daily life leave us so little time and energy for spending time together,
And in my mind, that's the most important thing of all.*

I love you so very much!

*So please don't ever think for a moment that you're not my first priority, because no matter where I am, or what I'm doing, in my heart,
I'm on that little island with you, loving you until the end of time."*

When I eventually got my composure back after reading that (Who said big men don't cry?) I realized the truth of God's word, "Love never...never...never...fails!" For all that we've been through, for all that we've never acquired or accomplished, we have seen the fulfillment of God's promise: We have love. All the worldly success couldn't buy what Jesus bought for us on the cross -the ability to love with his unconditional, limitless love, a love that truly never fails.

Question for dialogue: How have we seen God's love come through for us over the years?

Prayer for both of us: "Lord, help us to continue to walk in your unconditional love for one another with the knowledge in our hearts that your love will never fail us.

* * * * *

This Couples Devotional is brought to you by Marriage & Family Savers Ministries. Visit them at www.marriageandfamily.org

A Marriage Minute™

A simple help to make your marriage just a little better this week.

Love Never Fails.

--1 Corinthians 13:8

Today, Penny and I can look back over our forty two years of marriage, all the trials we've been through, all the difficulties we've had with each other, with finances, with children; It's been a long tough road, but has it been worth it? Let me share with you a card

Penny just sent me. (She sends me cards even though we work together in the same office. The personal stuff she wrote, I'll keep personal):

*"I wish we could run away, find some little uninhabited island,
And just make love to each other day and night for the rest of our lives...
I know that's selfish, but sometimes the pressures and responsibilities of daily life leave us so little time and energy for spending time together,
And in my mind, that's the most important thing of all.*

I love you so very much!

*So please don't ever think for a moment that you're not my first priority,
because no matter where I am, or what I'm doing, in my heart,
I'm on that little island with you, loving you until the end of time."*

When I eventually got my composure back after reading that (Who said big men don't cry?) I realized the truth of God's word, "Love never...never...never...fails!" For all that we've been through, for all that we've never acquired or accomplished, we have seen the fulfillment of God's promise: We have love. All the worldly success couldn't buy what Jesus bought for us on the cross -the ability to love with his unconditional, limitless love, a love that truly never fails.

Question for dialogue: How have we seen God's love come through for us over the years?

Prayer for both of us: "Lord, help us to continue to walk in your unconditional love for one another with the knowledge in our hearts that your love will never fail us.

* * * * *

This Couples Devotional is brought to you by Marriage & Family Savers Ministries. Visit them at www.marriageandfamily.org