

REAL CLIMATE CHANGE

“Immediately, after the distress of those days “the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light; the stars will fall from the sky, and the heavenly bodies will be shaken.” -Matthew 24:29

Oh, yes, it’s certain there will be climate change, but I never cease to be amazed at the sense of self importance man demonstrates to think that he can control the weather. The sun burps and we have global warming for a spell. It remains quiet and we have a mini-ice age. Yet human pride finds a sense of self importance developing theories and arguments that distract him from what he needs to be doing; that is changing the climate in his own home. That climate change we do have control over. I’m reminded of the wisdom of Father Washington who said in a letter to his friend, Burwell Bassett ,

“I have always considered marriage as the most interesting event of one’s life, the foundation of happiness or misery.”

Even George knew the climate in the home could be profound happiness or total misery. Let’s quit arguing about climate change “out there” and let’s effect climate change in our own homes. Let’s establish a climate of righteousness, peace and joy, and no matter what the weather looks like outside, home is where we will want to be.

Question For The Both of Us: What is the climate in our home? Is it righteousness, peace and joy, or is it something else? What can we do to change it?

Prayer For The Both of Us: Lord, help us to be mindful of the fact that the climate in our own homes is in our own power to control –with your help, of course. Let it be a climate of righteousness, peace and joy.

*****

This Couples Devotional is brought to you by Marriage & Family Savers Ministries. Visit them at www.marriageandfamily.org

REAL CLIMATE CHANGE

“Immediately, after the distress of those days “the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light; the stars will fall from the sky, and the heavenly bodies will be shaken.” -Matthew 24:29

Oh, yes, it’s certain there will be climate change, but I never cease to be amazed at the sense of self importance man demonstrates to think that he can control the weather. The sun burps and we have global warming for a spell. It remains quiet and we have a mini-ice age. Yet human pride finds a sense of self importance developing theories and arguments that distract him from what he needs to be doing; that is changing the climate in his own home. That climate change we do have control over. I’m reminded of the wisdom of Father Washington who said in a letter to his friend, Burwell Bassett ,

“I have always considered marriage as the most interesting event of one’s life, the foundation of happiness or misery.”

Even George knew the climate in the home could be profound happiness or total misery. Let’s quit arguing about climate change “out there” and let’s effect climate change in our own homes. Let’s establish a climate of righteousness, peace and joy, and no matter what the weather looks like outside, home is where we will want to be.

Question For The Both of Us: What is the climate in our home? Is it righteousness, peace and joy, or is it something else? What can we do to change it?

Prayer For The Both of Us: Lord, help us to be mindful of the fact that the climate in our own homes is in our own power to control –with your help, of course. Let it be a climate of righteousness, peace and joy.

*****

This Couples Devotional is brought to you by Marriage & Family Savers Ministries. Visit them at www.marriageandfamily.org